BEING CASTRecord Breaking Polls In Massachusetts

PRESIDENT VOTES EARLY

Takes Him Fifteen Seconds to Cast His Ballot—Both Republicans and Democrats Claim the Victory in Massachusetts.

Boston, Nov. 6.—A record-breaking vote is being polled here today. Perfect weather, combined with the untiring efforts of the campaign managers seems likely to bring the total vote up to that of Presidential years. Waking up to find it clear and warm weather the Republican leaders increased their estimates of the majority and they now predict success by over 50,000. The Democrats cling to the assertion that Moran will carry Boston by 25,000 and get a small majority outside.

The Republican managers at State headquarters claim a landslide for Guild and say Moran is being cut all over the State. At Democratic headquarters Charles McFarland, Moran's personal manager, has raised a cry of treachery. He says Moran is being knifed in Boston.

A RUSH OF
NEW BILLSLast Day For Introduction
Brings Them Forward

TOTAL NUMBER SMALL

Bill to Abolish the Board of Directors of State Prison, House of Correction and Industrial School—Capital Punishment Will Come Up Friday.

Montpelier, Nov. 6.—In this, the last day for presenting proposed laws in the Vermont legislature by regular procedure, there was a small avalanche of measures poured in. The rush was not noticeable, however, under the new rule, which requires that the bills come from the revision committee and that they be read for the first and second times by their title only. In the House this forenoon 22 bills were introduced and in the Senate seven. The total bills presented is now far below the average for this time, presumably because of this same requirement that the bills first go before the revision committee.
